ANSWERS WILL FIX WAR RATINGS

Here it is—the questionnaire for the new draft. It is going to be the most widely read document in the country. The AMERICAN offers it today, complete and published for the first time. Cut it out and study it. It is the document which the thirteen million men in the 18 to 45 draft must fill out after they have registered next week, Thursday, September 12.

WARNS MAYOR THAT FIREMEN MAY STRIKE

Captain Thomas G. Spillay, president of the International Association of Fire Platers, told Mayor Deane today that the situation in regard to a possible strike of Boston firemen for more pay was "very serious."

The Mayor was asked later whether Captain Spillay mentioned the strike possibility. The Mayor replied: "He most certainly intimated it and declared the situation to be very serious."

The organized used the Russell club argument, that the $100,000 appropriated for new motor apparatus be transferred to the payroll appropriation to increase the firemen's pay. The Mayor has twice refused to do this. He will confer with Captain Spillay and Russell club members later in the week.

The Mayor believes that the $300 and $100,000 should get more money. But he is aware that an increase in the fire department will be asked by the police. He asked Captain Spillay: "What will you do with the police?"

The captain replied: "Let the police department look out for itself."

RAIN HOLDS UP SOX-CUBS BATTLE

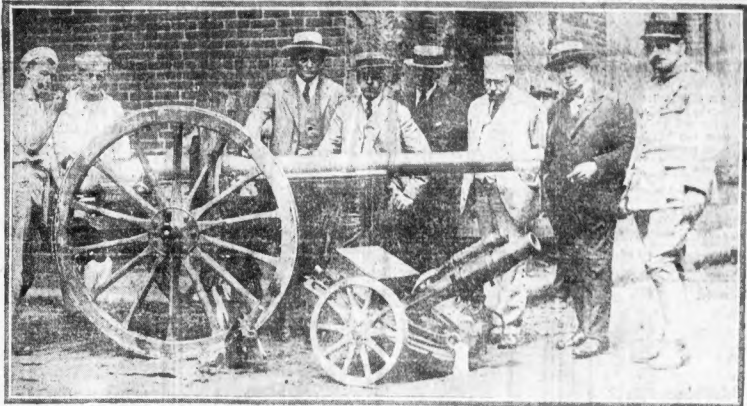

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The opening game of the 1918 World Series was postponed today because of rain.

Officials of the Chicago National League club announced that tickets for the opening game of the series would be good tomorrow.

The opening of today's game means that a Saturday game will be played in Chicago, unless the rain becomes perpetual.

It is expected that a Saturday game will draw a much larger crowd than the opening game earlier in the week.

BOSTON GETS CAPTURED GERMAN GUNS FOR LOAN DRIVE

Liberty loan committee members viewing captured German guns in South Boston, with explanations by French officer with the aid of two United States sailors. Left to right: F. H. Schaefer and R. H. Williams, U. S. seamen; Philip Dalton, R. S. Weeks, W. E. Chamberlain, John K. Allen and A. L. Winslow, all members of the Liberty loan committee, and Lieutenant Guston Girard, 262nd French Artillery, gunnery instructor at an American camp. The larger gun is one of the famous French 75 millimetre field pieces, captured by the Germans and later recaptured by Franco-American troops. Below, at left, is a grenade thrower, and at right is one of the German "Mineswerfer," an infantry field gun.

Captured German guns in Boston. A glorious fact! Taken by our gallant Marines along the Marne! Captured from "Kultur" Boston and New England's first in statement of the war trophies. Shipped to the U. S. A. by General Pershing, these guns are now being assembled in South Boston as part of a grand traveling exhibit for the Fourth Liberty Loan drive. The traveling exhibit of war material will be sent out about October 1st on two exhibition trains by the Liberty Committee of the Liberty Loan Committee of New England. The gun trophies on hand include: 1.—German Minenwerfer captured by American Marines on the Marne. 2.—French "75" captured by the Germans and recaptured by the French. 3.—German grenade-thrower captured by our Marines. The German Minenwerfer is the celebrated mobile, foot-propelled, the lightest of field artillery. It moves with the infantry, drawn by men instead of horses, and gets into action before the larger guns can arrive. The French "75" is regarded as the greatest light footpiece used in this war. The grenade-thrower is used to pop grenades over to the enemy trench.

BULLETINS!

London, Sept. 4. (1 p. m.)—British troops have crossed the Canal du Nord at Haut Allaines, just north of Peronne, it was learned today by the International News Service.

London, Sept. 4 (1:09 p. m.)—British patrols are in contact with the enemy in the western part of Lens.

London, Sept. 4 (1:15 p. m.)—Inchy-en-Artois, Demicourt and Hermies, to the west of Cambrai, have been captured by the British troops who are driving on Ypres, it was learned here today. The struggle in the vicinity of Moeuvres and Boursies, astride the Cambrai-Bapaume road, is raging with great intensity. British forces have captured Croix du Bac, on the Lys river.

3,500 AMERICAN SOLDIERS NOW IN SIBERIA

By International News Service. Washington, Sept. 4.—The arrival at Vladivostok of Major-General William H. Graves, accompanied by 41 officers and 1,000 men, was announced today by General Peyton C. March, chief of staff. Graves immediately assumed command of the American forces there, numbering about 3,500.

At the same time General March announced that up to August 31 the total American forces that have landed on all fronts is in excess of the 1,000,000 mark.

While all reports are not yet available on all fronts, it is estimated that on Sept. 4, 1,000,000.

GAINS BY ALLIES ON TWO FRONTS

General March, chief of staff, announced at Washington today that Cambrai is under British shell fire.

The British drive which opened with the smashing of the Drocourt-Quant switch at the northern end of the Hindenburg line is taking the form of a mighty encircling movement, against Cambrai and Douai. Field Marshal Haig has switched the main pressure of his armies from the northwest to the southwest of Cambrai, according to unofficial dispatches from the Artois front today.

FRENCH CROSS CAMBRAI BASE VESLE IN NEW SMASH IS MENACED BY THE BRITISH

Paris, Sept. 4 (noon).—French troops have smashed their way through to the northern suburbs of Vesle, just behind the Hindenburg line, which the Germans have been fighting desperately to retain, the French War Office announced today.

The War Office reports that French troops have gained ground up to the Canal du Nord and of more than 10 miles between the Artois and the Vesle River.

Other French troops have been fighting along the Vesle River and may be taking part in the new attack.

The text of the War Office announcement follows:

"Last evening and during the night the French continued to make gains."

Americans Thought to Be With Soldiers of Sister Republic in New Battle.

Control of all of the west bank of the Canal du Nord.

In the Valenciennes district the canal was crossed and strong enemy machine gun units were wiped out. Two bridges were destroyed, but four others remained intact.

The Germans, at first of the enemy, thought to be a glimpse of the enemy. They advanced with great results in the rear of the British divisions, making six miles progress in a single day.

British engineers along the Canal du Nord distinguished themselves by constructing a bridge under fire.

Patrols went out from Valenciennes, but were unable to get across the canal on account of the spreading fire from behind German machine gun units. South of Valenciennes patrols got across the stream, but in the north of the canal other patrols were held up. Only forty French soldiers were found in Valenciennes when the British advance guards entered the place.

The British artillery has made a magnificent record at advancing behind the infantry columns. The guns at many places had excellent opportunity for working down the enemy. The line guns were aimed like snipers at the enemy's strong points. At the end of yesterday's day the British were rewarded with a glimpse of the shores of Cambrai as the British line glided over them. This is one of the chief goals of the British line.

FOLLOW THE PROGRESS OF ALLIES ON THIS MAP

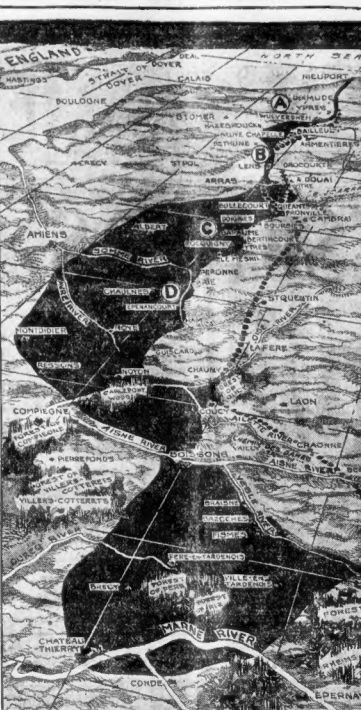

By BERT FORD, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

With the British Army in France, Sept. 4—(A. P. M.)—The Germans have taken temporary refuge behind the Canal du Nord and adjacent waterways, where they are attempting to cover their precipitate retreat by building new quays and bridges.

The main force of the enemy are retreating eastward, burning villages and supplies, and exploding ammunition dumps in their flight. The retreat east of the first line was effected along a front of twenty-five miles and lasted the war for the British troops, which spent the enemy's time like a bomb pursuing a fox.

The British are giving the Germans no opportunity to rest between the second river at the north and the ruins at the south. The Germans, who rallied a huge police defense, including fresh and demoralized divisions of engineers, demonstrated a complete lack of organization and were available in a vain effort to save the Hindenburg line, which the British have captured and captured the entire switch, sweeping forward with irresistible force.

Slaughter of Germans by Franco-American Forces Worst of War

By HENRY G. WALES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

With the American Army on the Vesle front, Sept. 4 (A. P. M.)—The Franco-American artillery is extremely active on the Vesle front, according to officers returning from the battlefield, the slaughter of the Germans was more than at any time during the four years of the war.

Franco-American batteries are successfully silencing the enemy gun positions by record marksmanship. German reinforcements are being thrown before the Franco-American effort to check their advance with the enemy capturing a retiring movement.

Along the Vesle the Germans are preparing to retreat, and the engineers of the enemy are feverishly trying to rebuild bridges across the Vesle. Their work is being terribly hampered by American long range guns and air bombers, scoring many direct hits.

In one six-mile sector north of Soissons the enemy is trying to maintain fourteen vehicle bridges and many footbridges, which he is forced to rebuild almost daily.

American air observers report the enemy is exploding ammunition dumps and burning barracks and houses.

Long lines of German transport are reported to be moving northward.

FRENCH CROSS THE VESLE RIVER IN NEW SMASH

The enemy east of the Canal du Nord and between the Ailette and the Aisne, French troops took Chapelle wood.

Northeast of Chevilly and toward Bussey, French detachments advanced in pursuit of the enemy approaching Gravelles.

North of the Ailette the French carried their lines to the western outskirts of Coucy-le-Chateau and Jambouillet.

Farther south the French progressed east of Leuilly, reaching the line of Clamery, Braye and penetrating into Bury-le-Loup. The number of prisoners taken in these operations exceeded 1,200.

On the Vesle front French troops crossed the river at several points.

Crozier Back From Inspection

Major-General William Crozier, commanding the Department of the North, returned today from an inspection trip of shipping plants in Connecticut.

A WAR-TIME APPEAL TO WOMEN AT HOME

To Actively Enlist Their Services for a Limited Time in Combating the High Cost of Living

There are in Boston and its suburbs hundreds and hundreds of intelligent women who, while without business experience, are becoming aware of the patriotic obligation resting on them to aid in maintaining the business prosperity of the Nation.

Are You One of These Women— Asking Yourself "How Can I Help?"

The importance of some particular action in place of a general wish is being impressed upon everyone by this war. One spoonful less of sugar—a rideless Sunday—a 68° Winter house temperature. Such personal obligations as these multiplied by the thousands and millions means an Allied Army Irresistible. You can help in such ways—and you can help further. Back of the well-equipped army in the field must be a contented people at home.

The Report of the National Industrial Conference Board Places the Increase in the Cost of Living at 50%

No one part of the Nation's commerce—no one business organization can prevent the upward trend of prices. But one store such as this, with purchases from manufacturers and wholesalers running into millions of dollars, is in a position to supply life's necessities and comforts at prices unusually low because of foresight and buying power.

We are planning to hold our Anniversary Sale this September, as usual. Prudence would seem to dictate our omitting it this year. But thousands upon thousands of people prepare to save many, many dollars by purchasing at this sale, and we could not fail them in this year of prevailing high prices. Accordingly we began our preparations almost a year ago, have ordered in greater quantities than ever, bought when prices were far more normal. As a result, the merchandise pouring in for this event we can price in many instances at practically today's wholesale costs.

By holding this Anniversary Sale in September and effecting a quick disposal of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise we can sell goods at a close margin of profit that would be impossible were the merchandise to take many weeks or months in being sold. We wish you to realize, as we do, how much this sale materially aids New England people—this year more than ever—in making both ends meet.

But we are face to face with the problem of securing human hands enough to pass on these wonderful values to those eager to buy. In former years we have employed 500, 600, 700 extra women to aid in selling. Only by their help could we ensure prompt service and the satisfaction of thousands of more shoppers each day than could otherwise be waited on.

This year it will be practically impossible to obtain extra saleswomen to help us with this sale—chiefly because of the war-time scarcity of men and the filling of their places by women.

We Make an Appeal to You—A Home Woman

You can enlist your services in a most practical way. We invite you to come into the store to sell merchandise for the few days this sale lasts. We do not ask you to contribute your services. You will receive full compensation. You will learn much that will be of value to you always. You will be performing a definite act of service in the interest of the successful conduct of the business of the country.

FRAGILE CHEEKS MRS. SKEELS S. ILL IN HOSPITAL ON DEATH CHARGE

PROSECUTED CHARGES SUSPECTED

Mrs. Skeels Eager for Chance to Prove Innocence in Florence Gay Case

Lawrence, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Bessie Skeels today called in the General Hospital from her bed in court, where she was held for a continued hearing on September 16 on charges of murder by poison of Miss Florence Gay and of larceny of jewelry and other valuables from Miss Gay's estate.

The accused nurse, who was in a state of collapse in court, felt much better today.

Her counsel, Daniel J. Daley of Boston, won his fight to have her re-committed to the hospital for treatment.

Instead of being taken to the Lawrence Jail the accused woman was taken in an automobile, with a nurse and her nurse as sole companions, back to the Lawrence General Hospital, where she had been a patient for some days.

Miss Physician Freeman gave Mrs. Skeels immediate attention and she was removed to new quarters at the hospital. Her only caller was a friend, who is still worried about her nervous condition.

Although Mrs. Skeels is a quiet person, she is being closely guarded by a police officer, who is stationed at the door of her room.

KNOW TO PROVE INNOCENCE. Reports that the authorities were fearful that she might attempt suicide if the opportunity was allowed her were refuted by friends.

"There is no danger of her attempting to take her own life," he said. "She wants to live now more than ever to prove her innocence. The whole case is a mystery. As soon as she is a free woman, and I believe that she will never go beyond the prison bars, she will go to a sanatorium for a complete rest."

Several well-known friends of Mrs. Skeels have offered to assist her to come here and take a rest. Some things have been done for her own preservation in waiting for some time, but her friends are sure she never could have borne up.

Landgren stated that he would pay his last dollar and drive her to the need be to the establishment of Mrs. Skeels' innocence. The State officers have her wrong," concluded Landgren. "They would dare. We would fight as well, though, and the defense will be on the job when the time comes."

Attorney Daley left this city after seeing his client safely lodged in new quarters at the hospital. He expressed himself as pleased with the first step in the case.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY. In the courtroom she had her first experience, and a very mild one, of what is before her in the ordeal of the trial she must face. Practically all the time she was in the courtroom by Landgren and the nurse, hunched up with her head down and her hands clasped in front of her, she looked at the floor and almost "not guilty" when the clerk read the murder charge.

It was the sole dramatic moment in the court proceedings. Mrs. Skeels, pale, hollow-cheeked woman made it very dramatic that it made it so.

She heard her physical condition described by Mrs. Donoghue and Sullivan at length. They said she was anemic, inclined to hysteria, subject to cerebral conditions. They declared that if she went to the jail would be to endanger her life. Dr. Donoghue said she needed plenty of rest and sunshine to regain her strength. Even District Attorney Wells found time to say in favor of sending her to jail rather than to the hospital.

Held without bail for a hearing on September 16 and committed to the Lawrence General Hospital, the brief court proceedings over the accused woman, trembling in every limb, called Attorney Daley and thanked him in faltering tones for saving her from the ordeal of jail. Then, supported on one side by Landgren and the other by the nurse, she was escorted to the waiting auto and was taken to the hospital, preparing to gain strength as much as possible of her strength to bear the strain of the coming trial.

Attorney Daley went to visit to the charge of larceny of Miss Gay's effects, with which Mrs. Skeels has been charged, during the trial. Judge Mahoney decided that the larceny and murder complaints should be tried together.

Under charges received that "Bessie May Skeels did deliver poison, to wit arsenic to Florence W. Gay, with intent to kill said murder, and said arsenic did kill and murder Florence W. Gay on or about the first of December, 1917."

MRS. BESSIE SKEELS AS SHE LOOKED IN COURT

First exclusive picture showing Mrs. Skeels, the Andover nurse accused of murder, as she appeared when charged with murder. Mrs. Skeels, though a woman of fifty-one, posed among her acquaintances as but thirty-five. The photograph was taken as the accused woman was leaving the court house at Lawrence after answering to the charge of causing the death by poisoning of Miss Florence M. Gay, an Andover Academy teacher.

TWO MEN REVOLVER SHOT IN 'ANARCHIST' ROUND-UP COLLISION

The office of the newspaper Cinco in Boston, at No. 32 Oxford street, which was raided by Federal agents last February, has been cleared out by six secret service agents and a United States deputy marshal, from the ground that it is an anarchist plot, with the intent of overthrowing the government.

Two Latin men, one a music teacher, the other a barber, are under arrest on charges of espionage. Government agents accuse them of being connected with the raid on the newspaper. The music teacher, living in Holliston street, and employed at the music store of Mr. J. J. Grandi, was taken at his place of work when the raid was made yesterday. The barber, who is a native of Italy, was taken at a music store at No. 30 Market street.

Both men were in court today and heard at length. They said they were innocent, inclined to hysteria, subject to cerebral conditions. They declared that if they went to the jail would be to endanger their life. Dr. Donoghue said she needed plenty of rest and sunshine to regain her strength. Even District Attorney Wells found time to say in favor of sending her to jail rather than to the hospital.

GALLI-CURCI'S HUSBAND SUES FOR LOSS LOVE. New York, Sept. 1.—The wife of Amalia Galli-Curci, the opera singer, has been the plaintiff in a conspiracy, according to the state's attorney, Luigi Curci, an artist, who has brought suit for $250,000 damages. The personal Curci charges withstanding his wife's affection for means of a conspiracy to supplant the affections of the plaintiff with the unlawful affections of "Samuel," as Charles L. Wagner, the singer's manager, and Homer Samuel, her accomplice.

URUGUAYANS VISIT BOSTON TOMORROW. A party of Uruguayans, headed by Dr. Balboa, Minister of Foreign Affairs for Uruguay, will arrive in Boston tomorrow, following a special invitation extended by Mayor Peters. The mission, which is making a brief tour of the country, will be met at the station by Mayor Peters and a reception committee. Their program for the day includes a visit to the Museum of Science and Technology and several manufacturing plants. Following a dinner at the Copley-Plaza in the evening they will leave for New York.

Dedham Man Held in $1,000. William E. Kennedy of Dedham street, Dedham, was today held in $1,000 in the Dedham District Court for a hearing on September 16, on a charge of manslaughter. Joseph Drouin, driver of No. 120 car, was charged with manslaughter down by an automobile, driven by Kennedy yesterday and died on the way to a hospital.

DEPENDENTS CALL OUT ALL LASTERS

Boston, Sept. 1.—A unanimous vote to call out all its members who did not quit work yesterday was taken by the Independent Labor Union. The resolution was passed today, and a telegram was dispatched to the War Labor Board at Washington announcing the resolution of the strike.

Although the Manufacturers' Association it was stated that the labor leaders are exaggerating the importance and scope of the strike, the latter stated that many lasters are out, and the rest will follow.

Thompson for the first time today when President James H. Thompson of the lasters issued a statement declaring that there had been rank discrimination against the strikers. He asserted the men returned to work as ordered by the War Labor Board, with the understanding that they would not be sent to the front.

The telegram sent to Washington, addressed to Mr. J. H. Thompson, of the War Labor Board, was as follows: "The lasters will not quit work until they are sent to the front. Apparently they prefer to be sent to the front. Consequently, we are all out again."

A Conservation Sale for Men that

Conserves the Wool Supply—Quality insuring long Service

Conserves Your Self-Esteem—Clothes cut to your measure

Conserves Hard-Pressed Dollars—By our early preparation

The rapidly expanding ranks of the army mean an ever-increasing number of wool uniforms, blankets, etc. The extraordinary wear imposed on these can be well imagined. A rapidly lessening margin of all-wool cloth is available for civilians, making it fortunate for those attending this sale that

Six Months Ago We Contracted for All-Wool Materials Sufficient for About 450 Men's Garments.

Today it would be difficult to secure, even at greatly advanced prices, such a good selection in all-wool materials:

Tweeds	Worsted	Mixture Suits
Casimeres	Unfinished Worsted	Plain Colors

Over 150 patterns for your selection. The tailoring, finish, style and linings of these suits and overcoats will be distinctly high-grade. No extra charge for Large Men.

In a short time, in view of present conditions, the only suits to be offered at such a reasonable price will be of cotton-mixed cloth.

MORE AMERICAN TROOPS LAND IN VLADIVOSTOK

The general stated that the number of Americans actually landed in France during August was more than 10,000. The largest number landed in France for any single month was 10,000, although in that particular month there was a goodly number of men landed in England and at other points.

30TH TROOP MOUNT KEMEL

General March stated that the 30th Division as the unit which participated with the British forces in the capture of Mount Kemel. The division trained at Camp Beyer, A. C., and was taken across by General March, who now commands an army corps. It is made up of troops from Tennessee, North and South Carolina.

CANADIANS CLOSE TO CAMBRI

The latest reports which have reached the war college show that the Canadian troops fighting in the sector east of Arras now are only about seven and one-half miles from Cambrai, and the British forces have advanced more than fourteen miles in the present operation in Picardy.

YANKS LAUNDED MONDAY

As the offensive began the British and Canadian forces have been attacking from the north. The British forces have been attacking from the north. The British forces have been attacking from the north.

MAYOR MAY NAME SEPT. 28 AS HEROES' DAY

September 28, the day of the opening of the Fourth Liberty Loan Drive, may be proclaimed as Heroes' Day in Boston by Mayor Andrew J. Peters. His Honor returned from his vacation in Boston, enthusiastic over the project to pay honor to the soldier and sailor and sailor's wife, who did not actually act a day for the celebration, but he is to be known that he was considering the feasibility of making proclamation naming the opening of the Liberty Loan drive as a fitting time in which Boston might do homage to its heroes.

ASK FOE LABOR TO STATE WAR AIMS

Derby, Eng., Sept. 4.—A resolution was adopted by the Labor Congress here today reaffirming the allied war aims. The delegates called upon the Labor and Socialist parties of the central powers to make a statement of their war aims.
